

4 STEPS TO CLARITY

Manufacturing is hard: You are busier than a 1-armed paper hanger, but you aren't sure anything is getting better. Your performance indicators bounce up and down without much rhyme, reason or rhythm. Your team is worn out and frustrated, and most days you leave feeling worn out, but nothing is fundamentally different than it was yesterday. Your team is "busy", but it isn't Productive! Our 4 Steps to Clarity will plant you firmly on the road to Running to your Potential.

Step 1 of our GSD system is to create "Blinding Clarity" on what needs to be done!

When new ideas and projects show up, don't realign your priorities, and for heaven's sake don't add them to your project list. Put them on a future list to work on later, after you've scored them as these above.

As you focus your resources on the precious few and not the trivial many, you'll start getting more things done - faster!

If you want some help, email me and we can have a quick call. Beau@tes.run
For more tips and tricks, visit www.tes.run